To UNW Members who are GNWT Employees

Bargaining teams for the Union of Northern Workers and the Government of the Northwest Territories met in Yellowknife on January 14th and 15th, 2016, to exchange proposals for a new Collective Agreement.

There appears to be some common ground between the parties on certain issues, including rest periods, safe disclosure and mental health in the workplace.

Both the Union and the Employer proposals can be found on the UNW's website.

Bargaining will resume the week of January 25th, 2016.

Please continue to visit this website for bargaining updates.
